

Creative writing –All I wish for

Sometimes I wonder what would it be if I could ever
have a wish
that could come true
right away

Would it be Becoming the most intelligent person
in the world
So people
would respect me

Would it be Having the most beautiful face
in the world
So people
would love
the way I look

After all
I realised
those wishes aren't the things
I want the most

Would it be Having the most skinniest body
in the world
So people
would say I look great

I realised
what I really want the most was simply one thin g

If I could ever
have a wish Confidence is all I wish for.
